
Introduction:

The Middleboro Gazette Index, 1920 - 1924 is a guide to the information contained within the Middleboro Gazette during the period January 1920 through December 1924. The information is as it appears in the newspaper. No attempt has been made to verify that the information given in the newspaper is accurate or to reconcile alternate spellings of family names.

The focus of the index is on the communities of Middleboro and Lakeville, Massachusetts. News from outside these geographic areas is included only if there is a direct link to these towns, i.e., Phineas T. Barnum and the Little People.

Special notations are used within the index to designate letters (l), tables (t), photographs (p) and illustrations (i). Authors of letters are cited either within the headline or in parentheses immediately following (l).

The often informal nature of reporting presents special challenges to researchers. Additional information about specific businesses, town departments or other concerns can be found under general headlines, i.e., Railroads, Streets, etc. when specific information is not provided.

Names are a particular challenge in a compilation of this kind. Multiple spellings, misspellings and incomplete names are just a few of the hurdles that must be overcome in order to glean every bit of information contained within the pages of the Gazette. For example, although there are both Pierce and Peirce families in Middleboro, inversion of the “i” and “e” is a common mistake. Sometimes the letter “n” is flipped and becomes a “u.” Because of the word-by-word alphabetization used in this index, names with prefixes, like De Moranville, do not fall in the same place in the index as when the name is spelled without a space, DeMoranville. There are countless examples of how easily names get lost in an index because of spelling errors, so it is advantageous for the researcher to take a broad view when conducting research on individuals and families.

It is my hope that the Middleboro Gazette Index, 1920 - 1924 will provide a lasting resource for people researching the history of Middleboro and Lakeville, Massachusetts.

Important Notes on Page Numbering:

- 1) The pages on the microfilm for the dates June 24, 1921 through July 1, 1921 are in the incorrect order. If you have articles you wish to access for any of these dates, please use the following key to locate the information you are seeking on the microfilm.

Starting with page one of the June 24, 1921 issue, the pages are in the following order:

page 10

page 8

2) The November 24, 1922 issue has a duplicate of page 3 at the position of page 5. Please ignore this page and continue consecutive numbering with the following page. At the end of this issue there appears to be an extra page. This page is actually page number 2 from the next issue, December 1, 1922. The same error occurs in the issue for December 15, 1922; it starts with page 2, followed by page 1.
